

Stewartville Public Library Copyright Law

The copyright law of the United States (17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyright materials.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be “used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research”.

If any user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of “fair use”, that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copy order if in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.
